

Subject: Application for Revocation of Guardianship, Replacement of Support Coordinator, and Investigation into Breach of Duty

To Whom It May Concern,

I write to formally request:

- 1. The revocation or variation of any current guardianship or financial management order affecting me;
 - 2. The immediate replacement of my NDIS support coordinator (Sukhi Tear);
 - 3. A formal investigation into failures of duty of care, including the circumstances in which I was left without stable housing; and
 - 4. A review and dispute of charges applied to me for accommodation during a hospital admission.

1. Capacity and Right to Autonomy

I assert that I possess the capacity to make my own decisions regarding accommodation, healthcare, and financial matters. The continuation of substitute decision-making arrangements is not the least restrictive option and is inconsistent with my rights under the Guardianship Act 1987 (NSW).

2. Failure to Act in My Best Interests

During the period in which I was under guardianship and receiving support coordination, I was left without stable housing. Despite the clear obligation to act in my best interests and to promote my welfare, no adequate accommodation was secured on my behalf.

This resulted in:

- Periods of homelessness and housing instability
- Significant psychological and financial harm
- A material failure to provide the most basic support required under these arrangements

This constitutes a breach of the duties owed to me.

3. Inadequate and Negligent Support Coordination

My support coordinator, Sukhi Tear, failed to:

- Effectively coordinate supports necessary for my safety and wellbeing
- Secure appropriate housing despite clear and urgent need
- Act in a manner consistent with the NDIS Code of Conduct, including acting with due care and diligence

The lack of meaningful coordination directly contributed to my circumstances and represents a failure of professional responsibility.

4. Disputed Hospital Accommodation Charges

I formally dispute any charges applied to me for accommodation during my hospital admission.

My position is that:

- I did not freely and meaningfully consent to the circumstances of that admission;
 - I did not independently request or control the accommodation arrangements; and
 - The imposition of such charges under these conditions is inappropriate and should be reviewed.

5. Breach of the Least Restrictive Principle

The current arrangements have not supported my independence. Instead, they have resulted in increased restriction, harm, and deprivation of basic living conditions.

Under NSW law, any intervention must be the least restrictive option. In my case, this principle has not been upheld.

6. Outcome Sought

I respectfully request:

- Immediate review and revocation of any guardianship order;
 - Removal and replacement of my current support coordinator;
 - A formal investigation into the conduct of those responsible for my care;
 - Withdrawal and/or correction of any improper accommodation charges;
 - Urgent assistance in securing appropriate and stable housing.

I am prepared to provide further documentation, including timelines, correspondence, and supporting evidence, upon request.

This matter is urgent, as it directly concerns my safety, housing, and fundamental rights.

Yours sincerely,

If you want, I can next:

- Turn this into a filed NCAT application format, or
 - Add a timeline of events and evidence annex (which will make it much stronger and harder to dismiss).
