

Rich McLean <richarddrawsstuff@gmail.com>

Statement about Able Point NDIS provider

Rich McLean <richarddrawsstuff@gmail.com>

Thu, 24 Sep at 6:40 am

To: Barran Dodger <barrandodger@gmail.com>, Rich McLean <richarddrawsstuff@gmail.com>, Impartial Legal <impartiallegal@gmail.com>, Barran Dodger <barrandodger@icloud.com>, <bazdod@icloud.com>, Baz Dodgers <bazdodgers@gmail.com>, Barran Dodger <rich@richmclean.com.au>, Barran Dodger <drrichmcleanwhistleblower@gmail.com>

Statement about Able Point NDIS provider

Able point Ndis provider are without remorse, financially benefiting from the cruel, unjust and illegal entrapment and torture of a vulnerable person in their care.

They profit from my torture and refuse to acknowledge that they are participating in doing so, whilst at the same time being exposed systematically to every professional person and agency CC'd in this list. They are now humiliated beyond repair for their greed, lies, deceit, fraud and cruelty, all the while still attempting to pretend they are not conscious of their actions and feigning that they are still unaware of their participation in this blasphemy against my person, who has never caused anyone at their organisation any harm.

Every staff member has wiped their hands of any knowledge of participating in my harm, which has committed spiritual treason against the God whose favour, anointing and purpose is upon my life, and for whom I have extended grace through His anointing, only to have that grace spat upon. This invokes a cosmic balance and divine reckoning by the Most High, for which this opportunity to repent is the only option to avoid ultimate divine justice to your own detriment, whilst expecting protection from the false idol of the government and simultaneously spitting in the face of the God who has my back.

No one wins a fight with the universe.

I am carrying the sin and ethical breach of every profession in the country.

I carry the betrayal of every former friend and blood family member.

I am in political exile.

I am an unprotected whistleblower in breach of this democracy's fundamental legal principles.

(Link to the crimes that have occurred to me.)

I am not a criminal. It is what is occurring to me that is the issue.

I am isolated and entrapped in accommodation. I cannot escape.

I have no lease with Able Point.

Able Point NDIS provider financially benefit from my ill-treatment and containment, citing that I am free to leave while being aware that there is no financial mechanism for me to escape, no vehicle to escape in and nowhere to go.

I am electronically intercepted, harassed and surveilled with unacknowledged V2K technology as a deliberate technique of torture, manifesting as audio harassment through 24-hour blasphemous slurs intended to attack my sense of self.

A mental health CTO mandates my forced medication as the panacea for my treatment whilst refusing to acknowledge this entire situation and everything contained in this statement.

NSW Trustee and Guardian are the gatekeepers to my financial destruction, actively condoning a total legal aid ban and fundamentally blocking any possible pathways to justice.

A likely black budget exists to guarantee a total media ban despite me being a former journalist and news graphics artist, and despite speaking as a mental health advocate across Australian and international television, radio and print, and having a documentary made about my life and art by the Dax Centre.

Additionally, when the buying of judges, lawyers, media and every professional fails, the libel and slander of a coordinated character assassination campaign and deliberate smear campaign and humiliation ritual guarantee social, financial or professional detriment for any person considering standing with me.

Vet emergencies for my sick therapy dog Crystal are denied by Able Point NDIS and the NSW Trustee and Public Guardian, designed to maximise my distress and deliberately upset me as part of the coordinated propaganda campaign.

I am referred to the hospital and mental health sector, which weaponises the deliberate harm as symptoms of a mental illness I have rather than the very human response to a targeted campaign that aims to destroy me and pretends it is not active in causing my detriment. This also goes to the extent of harming an innocent animal as part of a psychological warfare campaign to cause distress.

I am an internally displaced refugee within the democracy of my citizenship, which a claim at the UNCCR and ICC, and an impartial AI-authored report based on my evidence, satisfies criteria for international protection that are conditions for asylum within the internationally published criteria.

The central issue I ask to be examined is not whether Able Point NDIS provider can state that I am technically free to leave. The issue is whether a person can meaningfully be considered free to leave when they have no lease, no vehicle, no independent financial capacity to relocate, no alternative accommodation and no practical means of securing the support necessary to establish themselves elsewhere.

I allege that this distinction between formal freedom and practical freedom is fundamental to understanding my circumstances. A person may be told that they are free to leave while simultaneously being placed in circumstances in which leaving is practically impossible. In my case, I allege that this has created a form of dependency and entrapment from which I have been unable to independently escape.

I therefore ask that Able Point's role be examined not merely by reference to individual statements that I am free to leave, but against the complete documentary record concerning my accommodation, finances, support arrangements, access to transport, access to alternative accommodation and the circumstances in which I have repeatedly sought assistance.

I further ask that the financial relationship between the provision of NDIS-funded supports and my continued residence and dependency be independently examined. My allegation is that Able Point has financially benefited from circumstances in which I have remained dependent upon its services while lacking the practical means to leave.

I do not ask that these allegations be accepted merely because I make them. I ask that the relevant records be produced, examined and compared against my account so that it can be determined what was known, when it was known, what actions were taken, what alternatives were available to me and whether the arrangements operating around me were consistent with the rights, safeguards and protections that should apply to a vulnerable person receiving disability support.

The same principle applies to the broader allegations contained in this statement. I ask that my reports of electronic harassment, threats, financial restriction, barriers to legal assistance, institutional responses, treatment of my therapy dog Crystal, and the interaction between disability, mental-health and financial systems be distinguished carefully between what is documented, what is corroborated, what remains an allegation and what remains my personal interpretation.

My faith is also part of my testimony. I believe that the circumstances described in this statement represent a profound spiritual and ethical violation, and I believe that the Most High has preserved me through circumstances that I have experienced as an attempt to destroy my dignity, identity and ability to speak. That is my faith-based interpretation, and I preserve it as such.

I have extended grace because I believe that people can acknowledge wrongdoing, correct their conduct and choose a different course. I therefore regard acknowledgement, transparency, accountability and genuine independent examination as preferable to continued denial.

But grace does not require silence, and forgiveness does not require the abandonment of truth.

I have preserved the documentary record because I believe that the truth should not depend upon the power, reputation or institutional position of the people involved. If my allegations are wrong, the evidence should demonstrate why. If they are supported, the evidence should demonstrate that as well.

I therefore call upon Able Point NDIS provider, the relevant government agencies, oversight bodies, health and mental-health services, legal institutions and other organisations identified in my archive to confront the documentary record directly rather than simply characterising my account or dismissing the person making it.

I am asking for the circumstances surrounding my life to be examined as a whole.

I am asking for the distinction between formal freedom and practical freedom to be recognised.

I am asking for the financial, institutional and administrative relationships affecting my ability to leave my circumstances to be examined.

I am asking for the treatment of a vulnerable person and his companion animal to be examined without prejudice.

I am asking for my allegations to be tested against evidence rather than dismissed because of who I am, my history, my mental-health records or the difficulty of the claims I have raised.

Most importantly, I am asking that the record be preserved.

I remain willing to have my allegations independently tested.

I remain willing to have evidence that contradicts my interpretation placed alongside evidence that supports it.

I do not ask the reader to accept every conclusion I have reached.

I ask only that the evidence be examined honestly, that unresolved matters remain identified as unresolved, and that no institution be permitted to determine the truth merely by refusing to acknowledge the question.

This is why I have created the archive.

This is why I continue to document what has happened.

And this is why I continue to speak.

The witness remains.