Dear Mum and Dad

Nana is turning in her grave.

I'm sorry to hear of your imminent passing dad. I hope you both read this letter.

If you would like me to come to Melbourne to support the family, say goodbye to Dad, and attend the funeral, it is necessary that you provide a means for me to do so.

That is because I'm exiled entrapped and financially abused systemically and politically which you both have evidentially condoned whilst feigning you love me or care.

I have already asked Phillip Glass of the public guardian, Danny, Met, Sally, my ndis providers, and the NDIS for assistance, and all have refused to help.

It is well beyond my capability to attend of my own discretion and will as I am in Goulbourn entrapped in a political containment policy.

If I am genuinely included in Dad's will, then assisting me to attend should not be an issue. I need a car my payID is rich@richmclean.com.au

If, however, I am left here without any practical or financial means to travel and attend the funeral, I will have no choice but to accept that I am being excluded from the family and that this exclusion is being upheld despite knowing it prevents me from seeing my father one last time.

That decision would make it clear that I am no longer recognised or supported as part of the family.

I do not say this lightly. I have tried every avenue available to me.

I forgive you all for this situation. But I will carry the understanding, for the rest of my life, that the greatest opposition I faced came from within my own blood. That is not a reflection on me – it is something each of you will have to live with.

If no assistance is provided, then this will be my final message.

Goodbye, Dad.

With love.

Barran dodger – Gods chosen witness

Ps:

Do not expect grief from me when your time comes, because when I fell, no one in this family stood beside me.

The record shows what happened: while I was fighting for my life, revived from a fatal injury that was a protest to the corruption that you all enable today – compassion was absent; days after I was revived, you all chose to stand at the funeral of the person who sexualised my childhood and in the days that followed I was left powerless, hospitalised, dispossessed, and blamed for the very suffering I endured.

My voice was dismissed, my rights denied, and my pleas unanswered. I remain a person who has lived through abandonment, accusation, incarceration 16 times across 3 states, and internal political exile within my own country, still seeking dignity, truth, and the chance to be heard where silence was imposed.

No cop lawyer politician public official ombudsman workcover the ndis or anyone in the media will meaningfully intervene in my dreadful situation nor barely any friend and definitively any of you-Doug or April McLean, Jodie or Dave Bongetti, Brad or Ciara McLean, Bruce or Marie McMaster or any other relative.

Given the systemic demonic oppression of a corrupt beaurocracy I conclude Gods hand is on my life. God has my back when you all don't. This is my faith and my existence and my books are my evidence and holy testimony.

That is why I know alive or dead I will win. It is the reason in Christ why I can forgive you all for doing this to me. That in itself is more than evidence of my significance and via my own father's imminent death I'm forbidden to attend-my holy vindication.

I have spoken truth and honoured my own story when you all have refused aligning with the billion dollar corruption case to sustain this institutional murder and internationally significant corruption case.

Maybe you want me to give up?

I won't.

Maybe you should all admit what you've consciously or subconsciously agreed to do to me across 53 years.

I will continue to speak my truth, and people are listening... and God has my back even if a hospital or the prime minister or Bill Shorten or cops won't (below).

There is a bitter irony I cannot ignore. When age and fate struck Dad with illness – something no person caused – everyone gathered around him with care, protection, and support, determined to keep him safe and well. Yet the affliction that already brought me to death, from which I somehow returned, was not an accident of fate. It arose through human actions – through neglect, harm, and the failure of those entrusted to protect me.

Even now, with these words written plainly, I find myself dismissed and doubted, my reality denied by those bound to me by blood. Care is spoken, yet the conditions that surrounded me – poverty, abandonment, suffering, and exile – were allowed to grow unchecked.

The significance of this is not merely personal; it reveals a fracture between words and deeds, between the care proclaimed and the care truly given, and it marks the difference between a life sheltered and a life left to endure alone.

There is a single chance to align with the right side of history because I win every day with Gods protection and my testimony is a doorway which other victims will walk through and my testimony you all helped author with deception will be the very reason God positions me for glory justice and vindication.

I must also state this clearly. I have made serious accusations of a hit job what happened to me was not accidental, and I have described my belief and proven it below with screen snapshots that my life was deliberately placed in danger.

I recall being told by an NDIS provider, Ben, (below), that my survival had been a “close call” after I demanded he report the assassination attempt of federal police. Ironically the same government who would ordered my assassination paid for it with $10 million in bitcoin then had to prevent the murder from happening not because they care but because I’ve already published the evidence.

I had already crossed the threshold of death in 2021 due to poverty and corruption and returned. That abuse neglect poverty and political targeting still continues today whilst the ndis feigns care.

Whether others accept my proof or not, these are the experiences and words that shaped my understanding of what occurred.

If such claims are dismissed, ignored, or never honestly examined by those closest to me, then silence itself carries consequence. To refuse to question, to refuse to speak, and to refuse to defend someone who says they faced mortal danger is, in my eyes, a form of moral complicity in a harm left unacknowledged.

The significance of this is grave: it speaks to whether truth is confronted or avoided, and whether loyalty is measured by comfort or by the courage to face what is difficult and unresolved.

I now understand you not only did not want me in your lives but also not at my own fathers funeral and that if I suicided from the continuing beaurocratic genocide via attrition not one of my family would question it: and that plain and simple is murder via attrition.

People are talking and whether via coincidence or cosmic resonance or wealthy Christian organisations or the concept of metaphysical resonance or Christian revelations from the bible... this video one of hundreds in which I identify as a “chosen one” and refer to the the viewer as a person of spiritual significance truth is immortal and does not need permission to shine.
