Title: Upholding Justice and Human Rights: The Urgent Need for Support and Redress for Dr. Rich McLean

Introduction:

The Australian Human Rights Commission has a critical role in safeguarding the fundamental rights and freedoms of individuals within Australia. In the case of Dr. Rich McLean, it is imperative that the Commission actively engages in investigating the serious violations of his human rights, ensuring justice is served, and providing the necessary support and redress for the injustices he has endured. This argumentative statement seeks to outline the compelling reasons why the Australian Human Rights Commission should prioritize Dr. Rich McLean's case and advocate for his rights to be restored.

- Right to Freedom from Discrimination:
- Dr. Rich McLean's experiences highlight the disturbing prevalence of discrimination against individuals with mental illness. His public profile and advocacy work have made him a target of vilification and stigmatization, resulting in the destruction of his personal and professional life. The Australian Human Rights Commission must address this pervasive discrimination and take a stand against the marginalization of people with mental health conditions. By supporting Dr. Rich McLean, the Commission can send a powerful message that discrimination based on mental illness will not be tolerated in our society.
- Right to Freedom of Expression and Whistleblower Protection:
- As a whistleblower, Dr. Rich McLean has faced severe reprisals for exposing corruption and dishonest practices. The Australian Human Rights Commission has a duty to protect individuals who speak out against wrongdoing, ensuring their right to freedom of expression and providing safeguards against retaliation. By championing Dr. Rich McLean's cause, the Commission can set a precedent that encourages whistleblowers to come forward without fear of retribution, promoting transparency and accountability in all sectors.

- Right to Fair Treatment and Access to Justice:
- Dr. Rich McLean has encountered numerous obstacles in seeking justice for the injustices he has suffered. The denial of legal representation, dismissal of his grievances by law enforcement and government officials, and lack of response from advocacy organizations have left him without the fair treatment and access to justice he deserves. The Australian Human Rights Commission must intervene to ensure that Dr. Rich McLean's rights to fair treatment and access to justice are upheld, enabling him to pursue the legal remedies necessary for his vindication.
- Right to Adequate Standard of Living and Social Security:
- Dr. Rich McLean's distressing circumstances, including homelessness, starvation, and being denied necessary financial support, have deprived him of his right to an adequate standard of living and social security. The Australian Human Rights Commission should take immediate action to ensure that Dr. Rich McLean's basic needs are met, facilitating access to appropriate accommodation, food, and essential healthcare. This support is crucial in enabling him to regain stability and rebuild his life.

Conclusion:

The Australian Human Rights Commission holds the responsibility to protect and promote human rights in Australia. Dr. Rich McLean's case represents a clear violation of his fundamental rights, including freedom from discrimination, freedom of expression, fair treatment, and access to justice. By actively engaging in his case, the Commission can demonstrate its commitment to upholding justice and human rights for all individuals, irrespective of their mental health status. It is vital that the Commission takes immediate action to investigate Dr. Rich McLean's claims, provide the necessary support and redress, and ensure that such violations are not perpetuated in our society.

Federal anti corruption commission:

Statement in Defense of Dr. Rich McLean for the Federal Anti-Corruption Commission

Honorable members of the Federal Anti-Corruption Commission,

I stand before you today to present a compelling argument in defense of Dr. Rich McLean, a multifaceted individual who has been subjected to a harrowing ordeal of persecution, victimization, and injustice. It is imperative that we carefully consider the evidence and narratives presented in order to shed light on the systematic abuse of power and corruption that has plagued Dr. McLean's life.

- Conspiracy to Distort Justice: Dr. McLean's account exposes a provable conspiracy aimed at perverting the course of justice. There is a clear pattern of deliberate harm, obstruction, and cover-up orchestrated by faceless political stakeholders and individuals in positions of power. This concerted effort to undermine justice must be thoroughly investigated, and those responsible must be held accountable.
- Victimisation and Oppression: Dr. McLean's personal narrative vividly embodies the experiences of a misunderstood scapegoat, who has been subjected to reprehensible victimization. His persecution has brought him perilously close to death, as evidenced by his accidental discovery unresponsive with no pulse. The trauma and distress he has endured cannot be ignored, and absolution must be granted to all parties involved.
- Failure of Law Enforcement and Government Authorities: It is deeply troubling that the Prime Minister's office and law enforcement authorities have callously disregarded Dr. McLean's valid requests for information under the Freedom of Information Act. This not only hinders his ability to comprehend the cause and extent of his victimization but also highlights a failure of these authorities to uphold justice and transparency. The Federal Anti-Corruption Commission must investigate these lapses and ensure accountability.

- Exposing Systematic Victimization: Dr. McLean's case highlights a deliberate strategy to impede his prosperity, dismantle support structures, and stigmatize him as mentally ill. This systematic victimization seeks to isolate and marginalize him, disregarding his identity and other contributing factors to his situation. By exposing this systemic oppression, we can bring attention to the broader issue of injustice and pave the way for positive change.
- Financial Oppression and Impediments: Dr. McLean's claims for compensation and settlement have been ruthlessly taken away, leaving him in a state of financial oppression. He has suffered significant financial losses, and his basic needs, such as food, medicine, and shelter, have been neglected. It is crucial for the Federal Anti-Corruption Commission to intervene and ensure that Dr. McLean's basic needs are met while his case is thoroughly investigated.

In conclusion, Dr. Rich McLean's case represents a distressing and challenging predicament characterized by a conspiracy to distort justice and inflict personal harm. The evidence and narratives presented warrant a comprehensive investigation by the Federal Anti-Corruption Commission. We must prioritize accountability, justice, and the protection of Dr. McLean's rights as we seek to expose corruption and systemic victimization. I urge you to consider the gravity of his situation and act in the pursuit of truth, fairness, and ultimately, justice.

Thank you for your attention and consideration.

And a letter from my website:

Unveiling the Patterns of Dr Rich McLean's Targeted Victimization: Exposing Covert Tactics and Systemic Injustice

Dr Rich McLean's harrowing ordeal embodies a conspiracy distorting and perverting the course of justice and resulting in severe victimisation. Despite facing near-death persecution, they were miraculously revived. This platform showcases their talents, determination, and seeks justice and accountability for the inflicted detriments and there is a need for justice.

Facing Adversity: A Distressing and Challenging Predicament

Armed with this essay and compelling evidence, I seek to demonstrate a disturbing pattern of targeted persecution, victimisation, and oppression against me. I aim to expose a provable conspiracy to pervert justice involving multiple public officials. This deeply personal narrative unveils a malicious agenda driven by faceless political stakeholders, hindering my prosperity and dismantling supportive structures. I am unjustly labeled as "ill" while disregarding other factors contributing to my situation. Regrettably, my rights as a person with a disability, as protected by the Charter of Human Rights, have been violated.

Violation of Rights and Labelling as Mentally Ill

The evidence presented reveals a deliberate campaign to harm me personally, impede my progress, and stigmatise me as mentally ill. This vilification aims to isolate and marginalise me, ignoring other aspects of my identity. Despite its incredibility, this is the harsh reality I face. As someone diagnosed with schizophrenia, I am entangled in a distressing struggle of family violence involving a former ASIO employee who has threatened my life and my dog's due to my whistleblowing. It is easy for others to dismiss my claims as delusions, but the facts I present substantiate the seemingly fantastical nature of my story up to and including The prime Ministers office.

Involvement of the Prime Minister's Office and agencies

It is highly surprising that the Prime Minister's office is directly involved in this matter. Initially, they acknowledged the complexity and magnitude of my Freedom of Information request, acknowledging it as "voluminous" and "complex." However, they have now backtracked, refusing to comply by claiming that the requested documents simply do not exist. These documents, had they been released, would have exposed crucial details regarding my relationship with various statutory authorities, including being blacklisted at AFCA, experiencing an unjust decision resulting in the loss of a million-dollar settlement at AHRC, and my role as a contracted worker for the NDIS. Additionally, they would have shed light on my public image, previous employment with prominent publications such as The Herald Sun and the Age, and even my receipt of a human rights award.

Lack of agencies accountability

Moreover, the lack of intervention regarding my exploitation in my relationship both then and now from law enforcement, ASIO, Centrelink, the tax office, AGIS, and ASIS raises serious concerns regarding potential biases or conflicts of interest within these institutions, especially considering the public official role held by my former partner. It is imperative that these agencies impartially investigate and address any wrongdoing, irrespective of the individuals involved. The failure to intervene when a government official mistreats their partner, leaves them homeless, or denies a fair settlement, while enjoying a high wage, undermines the credibility and effectiveness of these agencies and erodes public trust.

Trapped Without Legal Representation: Seeking Justice as a Whistleblower exiled from justice

This distressing situation necessitates a comprehensive review and reevaluation of the existing mechanisms designed to hold public officials accountable. Transparency, fairness, and accountability are paramount for maintaining public confidence in those who hold positions of power and authority. It is crucial to recognize that I was exploited within the relationship and subsequently subjected to coercive financial control and family violence through the refusal of a settlement. To compound matters, authorities immediately incarcerated me when I attempted to access some of my former partner's superannuation. This is why the central figure responsible for this victimization and the clear government tyranny has remained silent, operating covertly through proxies. The depth of this ordeal demands urgent attention and action to rectify the injustices perpetrated against me.

Involvement with police and the law

Unfortunately, seeking assistance from the police is not a viable choice in my case either. As a rejected whistleblower without legal representation, I am trapped in a dreadful situation. Adding to the complexity is the fact that I have been subjected to psychometric profiling by the Government and falsely portrayed by a prominent lawyer Russell Ball as an extortionist who holds sway over government policies and the Ombudsman. Sadly, my efforts to report these matters to the Ombudsman's office have been ignored, with no response to my concerns and a rejection of further communication including my whistleblower status denied.

Recognition and Achievements: A Public Profile

My name is recognised by authorities for a tangible reason. I have a public profile, having worked as an illustrator for prominent media outlets such as The Herald Sun and The Age. Additionally, I have been a public speaker, including advocating for SANE Australia within Australian Parliament. My art has gained wider recognition, and a documentary about my life and art was produced by The Dax Collection. While I understand that my story may raise concerns of grandiosity or delusion, I want to assure you that the article I am preparing for the federal anti-corruption committee on July 1st is backed by verifiable facts. The truth in this case is indeed stranger than fiction. Despite psychiatrists diagnoses of ingrained delusions of persecution, the harsh reality I confront involves homelessness, starvation, and deliberate withholding of significant sums of money through systemic and politicised methods. The events I have experienced are not merely "bad luck." They are concrete and verifiable facts, those facts illustrate a phenomenon of my oppression and my intention is to present them as such.

Insurances and compensations universally rejected

My workers' compensation impairments claim in 2006 remains unpaid. The incorrect amount of TPD (Total and Permanent Disability) was paid in 2008 and never corrected. There was no settlement from my ex-partner in 2015, and my HCF (Health Insurance) income assist was rejected in 2021. Furthermore, my workers' compensation claim in 2021 remains unpaid as ComCare rejected it, stating I am not a 'public official' under the SRC Act. However, in a rejected whistleblower statement from the Federal Court, Scott Treadwell confirmed I am or was an employee of DSS. If my work cover fails at the AAT and I live in poverty, I have the option to appeal at the Federal Court, where they already acknowledge I am an 'employee' under the SRC Act. So, where is the compensation? And if it fails altogether, where else could my workcover have been covered?

Persecution and Silence: The Burden of Injustice and Abandonment

The evidence presented here paints a distressing picture of injustices, cover-ups, and a lack of consideration for my well-being and rights. Despite my desperate attempts to seek assistance from various organisations, I have been unjustly banished and ignored by politicians, leaving me feeling abandoned and without a voice. Even advocacy organisations (such as) neglect to support me I guess due to fear of reprisals from those who have directed me not having access to justice. As a mentally ill gay individual, the weight of oppression I bear is unbearable, with years of persecution and torment. Additionally I live with a cognitive brain impairment from my suicide attempt in which I was revived from death for the reason of being vilified and victimised. This persecution continued from Feb 21 until the present day whereby a universal whitewashing of my injury and zero accountability by the Weribee Mercy Hospital who owed me a duty of care has permeated agencies and halted my justice. Following the suicide attempt my business website was destroyed, my prosperity redacted, work cover never paid, HCF income assist insurance was never paid, and the Footscray Police have coerced me into fleeing my hometown, forcefully uprooting my life because of The Mental Health Act and that I was deemed a danger to myself or others. This collectively is persecution. This is victimisation. Victimisation is against the law.

Systemic Financial Oppression and the Fight for Justice: Unveiling the Truth Behind Targeted Persecution

I am trapped in a cycle of systemic and politically motivated financial oppression, with my prospects for compensation or settlement ruthlessly taken away. My possessions have been destroyed, and those responsible operate with impunity, shielded by power and influence. It is crucial to expose the truth and dismantle these oppressive systems. I am targeted due to my public profile, academic achievements, and connections to the Australian Secret Service. Unfortunately, no one, including neighbours, friends, family, authorities, lawyers, or the Prime Minister, seems willing or able to address this injustice. I have evidence of the oppression and harassment I face, and I refuse to remain silent. I will fight for justice. My journey has been filled with hardship, including incarceration and a suicide attempt that resulted in brain impairment. I have encountered discrimination, negative portrayals, and the destruction of my work and personal belongings. Institutions have dismissed my disclosures, and the legal system has failed me. I have faced death threats and violent attacks, while the mental health system has disregarded my injustice and exploited and vilified me as 'mentally ill'. The conspirators are determined to destroy me and cover up their actions. I demand justice, compensation, and the exposure of the truth.

Resilience in the Face of Adversity: Challenging Discrimination, Demanding Justice, and Redefining Survival

Despite overwhelming opposition, I remain determined and authentic, refusing to be silenced or broken. The conspiracy against me aims to assassinate my character and limit my chances of survival in this capitalist society. Discrimination, vilification, and job loss due to sharing my experiences with schizophrenia have been challenging to bear. I am committed to my studies, creativity, and advocacy, fighting for justice and change despite setbacks. My prospects for compensation and settlement have been unjustly taken away, and my possessions destroyed. The perpetrators operate with impunity, shielded by power and influence. I have endured distressing experiences, including incarceration and a near-fatal suicide attempt resulting in brain impairment. Discrimination, negative portrayals, and institutional dismissals have compounded my struggles. I demand justice, compensation, and the exposure of the truth, seeking a life worth living in comfort and safety.

Breaking Stigma and Defying Adversity: Embracing Resilience in the Face of Discrimination and Mental Health Challenges

Despite overwhelming opposition, I stand resolute and authentic, refusing to be broken or silenced by the conspiracy aimed at assassinating my character and limiting my survival. Navigating this capitalist society without adequate resources is a skill I've acquired, but I won't be silenced. Experiencing discrimination, vilification, and job loss due to sharing my experiences with schizophrenia has been challenging. However, I remain committed to my studies, creativity, and advocacy, determined to overcome obstacles and fight for justice and change. The harmful stigma attached to mental illness must be addressed.

Unyielding in the Pursuit of Justice: Overcoming Adversity and Demanding Accountability in the Face of Oppression”

I have been subject to devastating circumstances where my prospects for compensation or settlement have been unjustly taken away, and my possessions have been destroyed. The perpetrators, shielded by power and influence, operate with impunity. I have endured distressing experiences, including incarceration and a suicide attempt that resulted in brain impairment. Discrimination, negative portrayals, and the destruction of my work and belongings have added to my suffering. Despite seeking justice through institutions and the legal system, I have faced dismissals and a lack of accountability. Threats and attacks have further compounded my ordeal. The conspirators aim to destroy me and conceal their actions, but I refuse to rest until justice is served, whether through exposure of the truth or attaining a life of comfort and safety. My demand for justice and compensation remains unwavering.

Targeted and Abandoned: Battling Institutional Obstruction and Seeking Accountability Against All Odds”

As a targeted individual with connections to the Australian Secret Service, I have faced obstruction and harm from multiple individuals, including high-ranking authorities. Despite extensive evidence of intentional oppression and harassment, law enforcement, the Prime Minister, and government officials have failed to address the injustice. Neglected by institutions like AFCA, Worksafe, ComCare, and the Health Department, my redress scheme for institutional child sexual abuse compensation has been delayed and denied, leading to homelessness. Facing bullying, restricted access to NDIS funds, whistleblower rejection, and death threats from a former partner, the mental health system dismisses my experiences while vilifying me. Despite psychological torture and life destruction, I refuse to conform and seek accountability with unwavering determination.

Defying Stigma and Betrayal: Empowering Mental Health Advocacy and Seeking Justice”

In 2004, The Herald Sun vilified me in an article titled ‘MY DESCENT INTO MADNESS, and I was unjustly dismissed from The Age for publishing my experiences with schizophrenia through my autobiography. The stigma surrounding mental illness has been detrimental, but I remain committed to my studies, creativity, and advocacy for mental health awareness against incredibly bad odds. I refuse to be crushed by betrayal and injustice. Despite the government's attempt to shield my former partner from accountability, I will not be silenced. I am determined to expose the truth and fight against malicious tactics. I refuse to surrender my agency or allow others to control my life's trajectory. I will seek advocacy to address my needs and regain control over my destiny. No matter the challenges ahead, I will not back down. The police know I was living with my then partner Steve Iasonidis at two different locations, ASIO have protected him, IGIS refuse to investigate my exploitation at ASIO, and ASIC refuse the same investigation into his corrupt finances and the fact the Government were well aware of the inequity.

Defiance in the Face of Rejection: Pursuing Truth, Justice, and Advocacy for Survivors”

I refuse to let their actions keep me in the shadows. The challenges I faced in pursuing justice were formidable, but they only fueled my determination to expose the truth. I acknowledge my own role in my downfall, recognizing the moments when I gave in to temporary pleasures and indulgences. However, it is disheartening to see every accomplishment I achieved, every sacrifice I made for the betterment of the community, met with rejection and dismissal. I bared my soul and shared knowledge that others deemed taboo or risky, all for the sake of enlightenment, progress, self-reflection, and art. Yet, my triumphs were cast aside as if they held no value, praised on one hand and vehemently judged on the other. I will continue to gather evidence diligently, challenging the false narrative that seeks to vilify me. The path to justice may be convoluted, but I will navigate it with determination and resilience. My commitment to seeking justice extends beyond my own experiences. It is a testament to my unwavering dedication to a better and more equitable world. I will not be deterred by those who attempt to discredit me. I will rise above the false accusations and continue to advocate for the rights of survivors, shedding light on the dark corners of abuse and fighting for the justice they deserve.

Unmasking Systemic Threats: Uncovering Manipulation, Silencing, and Victim-Blaming”

There may be systemic threats that I am yet to discover and confront. I was set up by Russell Ball, a powerful lawyer, and I was denied legal help until after my suicide attempt, which provided evidence of this. The repercussions of my malpractice complaint were severe, as I became a target of victim-blaming and silencing tactics orchestrated by the GP's lawyer. Instead of addressing the concerns I raised, they resorted to defaming me as an extortionist, discrediting me, and silencing my evidence. The harm inflicted upon me was not limited to financial losses; it extended to the erosion of my dignity and the trampling of my rights across various statutory offices and institutions.

Resilience in Pursuit of Justice: Defying Defamation, Silencing, and Victimization”

But I remain steadfast in my pursuit of justice. I will confront these challenges head-on, determined to bring to light the truth and seek accountability for those who have wronged me. I will not allow their cunning tactics to keep me from speaking out and seeking the justice I deserve. My resilience will prevail, and I will continue to fight for a world where everyone's rights are respected and upheld, regardless of their background or experiences. Despite being labeled as mentally ill and facing attempts to silence me, I refuse to be defined by their tactics. I stand strong in seeking justice and reclaiming my rights. Their efforts to delegitimize me will not succeed. I will not be silenced. I refuse to internalize false portrayals or victim-blaming. I am defined by my resilience, determination, and commitment to truth. Together, we will expose injustices and reclaim our power. Our voices will persist and be heard. My resilience in the face of targeted victimization deserves recognition.

Unveiling the Patterns of Targeted Victimization: Connecting the Dots of Covert Tactics and Systemic Injustice”

I have unintentionally encountered the term "Gang Stalking" and discovered that the tactics used by those involved can be covert and challenging to prove. Through careful observation, I have identified patterns and collected compelling evidence that directly connects this pervasive phenomenon to my public profile and targeted individual status. This evidence validates the severe victimization I have experienced, which I believe is rooted in political and systemic factors, ultimately leading to my suicide attempt. My survival is a testament to my resilience and determination. I have diligently gathered comprehensive evidence that points to a vast conspiracy involving influential individuals and organizations aimed at undermining justice and perpetuating my victimization, depriving me of my rights and equality. These actors often hold positions of power without contributing significantly or showing originality. With the support of government entities or external forces, they uphold an oppressive system that has led to my destitution, homelessness, and ongoing injustice. Despite being aware of the risks to my well-being, various agencies, individuals, hospitals, and organizations have failed to intervene and provide necessary support. The neglect and abandonment I have faced from society, including Werribee Mercy, Salt Water Clinic, lawyers, police, news channels, media outlets, academics, politicians, and numerous institutions, further perpetuate my victimization and deny my rights and prosperity. Email communications with key figures have been blocked, and entities like NDIS, AFCA, APRA, IGIS, ASIO, ASIC, AAT, ComCare, WorkSafe, and others have also failed to address my needs and provide essential support. This pattern of neglect and victimization needs to be recognized and addressed.

Fighting for Justice and Accountability: Navigating a Complex Battle Amidst Neglect and Personal Resilience”

If this neglect persists, it could escalate to a deadly outcome where no one is held accountable for the violence, yet everyone has contributed to the creation of a political ecosystem that allows it to happen. Throughout my journey, I have remained steadfast in my battle against the deliberate harm inflicted upon me by influential individuals who hide behind proxies and intermediaries. My unwavering determination serves as a powerful reminder of the pressing need for accountability and justice. In my pursuit of justice, I persist in gathering evidence, uncovering patterns, and advocating for my rights through phone calls and emails. Amidst these challenges, I prioritize self-care and seek support from a select few trusted individuals and organizations. Preserving my mental and emotional well-being is crucial during this arduous journey.

Empowering My Voice: Seeking Justice, Validation, and Rebuilding a Life of Freedom”

I refuse to let my voice be silenced or my experiences be dismissed, ignored, or pathologized as mere delusions. I stand strong, resolute, and unwavering in my quest for the justice and resolution that is rightfully mine. I seek a platform to document and validate my narrative, enabling me to rebuild my life and express gratitude to those who have supported me. It is crucial that my story is heard to hold those responsible accountable. My ultimate goal is a simple life, free from oppression, with compensation for my detriments and the opportunity to work in the community again, surrounded by loved ones and my loyal dog.

Defying Neglect: Triumphs of Resilience and the Journey towards Justice”

In stark contrast to my life of neglect, I have achieved remarkable milestones, including a Doctorate and international recognition for my creativity and advocacy. These accomplishments reflect my independent efforts and unwavering resilience. Despite the silence and active contributions to my victimization from individuals and institutions, I am grateful for the unwavering support of those who believe in my truth. Their belief in my integrity has been a source of strength in the darkest moments. With the submission of this email and document, I remain steadfast in my belief that justice is approaching.

Unyielding in the Pursuit of Justice

To those who target and oppress me, hear this: I cannot be silenced or intimidated. I will expose your actions and fight relentlessly for justice. Your attempts to break me will only strengthen my resolve to uncover the truth and advocate for the rights of the marginalized. In the face of adversity, I stand firm, pursuing justice and truth. I call upon the world to hear my story, acknowledge the injustices, and work together to dismantle systems of oppression. Join me in amplifying my voice, shedding light on corruption and harassment. Together, we can challenge these structures and bring about real change. My journey represents the struggle of many; let us unite in our fight for justice, solidarity, and equality.

- Attorney General Mark Dreyfus: Refused to intervene or acknowledge me.
- Office of the Prime Minister and Cabinet: Refused my FOI request.
- Anthony Albanese, Prime Minister: Rejected my plea for help.

Heading: Systemic Neglect and Persecution: A Call for Investigation and Justice

I find myself surrounded by individuals, organizations, and government bodies that consistently neglect my concerns, deliberately ignoring my issues and perpetuating injustices. Even individuals with negative reputations or criminal backgrounds receive legal representation and basic necessities, while I am denied these rights. These entities either remain silent or actively work against me, exacerbating the injustices I face. This amounts to illegal persecution and victimization. My personal life has become public, contributing to conditions of exploitation. It is essential to acknowledge the personal decisions of individuals when shaping my public narrative. Upon thorough examination of the evidence presented on this page, it is evident that there exists a deliberate conspiracy aimed at obstructing justice, with me being the targeted victim. The evidence consistently demonstrates patterns of isolation, shaming, physical harm, and financial deprivation, leaving no room for alternative interpretations. This substantial body of evidence strongly supports the conclusion that I am a targeted individual and warrants a comprehensive investigation into the human rights abuses I have suffered.

Heading: Uncovering a Web of Injustice: Fighting Against Systemic Victimization

I have been caught in a conspiracy that aims to distort justice, despite dedicating decades to assisting and advocating for others. I have endured numerous injustices, including being singled out, vilified, victimized, exploited, discriminated against, wrongfully terminated, subjected to violence, denied my rights and equality under the law, and deprived of resources, freedom, and my home. I have experienced imprisonment, humiliation, coercion, and widespread disregard for my well-being. Society has treated me as a convenient punching bag and scapegoat, disregarding my qualifications and experience. Denying a person with a disability equality before the law and access to necessary resources is a clear violation of human rights, which I am currently experiencing. I am dedicated to presenting evidence that supports my claims of victimization and gang stalking, and I believe that the evidence provided on this page substantiates my case.

I call on the AHRC to intervene in my victimisation

I urge the Australian Human Rights Commission to conduct an immediate investigation into the crimes committed against me and the violation of my rights, as outlined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, to which Australia is a signatory. Specifically, the infringements include:

- Article 3: the right to life, liberty, and personal security.
- Article 5: freedom from torture and degrading treatment.
- Article 12: freedom from interference with privacy, family, home, and correspondence.
- Article 24: the right to rest and leisure.

Furthermore, I have evidence, including recordings, of government officials surveilling my former residence in Footscray. I have also encountered individuals who appear to be spies or persons of interest within the government, indicating that these encounters are not mere coincidences. This further supports my use of the term "gang stalking" to describe the ongoing harassment I have experienced.

The evidence I present includes documented instances of government officials surveilling my former residence in Footscray, as well as encounters with individuals who bear the hallmarks of spies or persons of interest within the government. These incidents, which cannot be dismissed as mere coincidences, provide further substantiation for the term "gang stalking" to describe the ongoing harassment I have been subjected to.

Given the gravity of these violations and their persistence, I implore the Australian Human Rights Commission to conduct a thorough and impartial investigation into my case. It is imperative that these crimes are exposed and the perpetrators held accountable for their actions. I firmly believe that the evidence I have gathered, including recordings, will provide significant insights into the extent of these human rights abuses.

Clarification Regarding Centrelink Fraud and Unfair Treatment

As of today, June 30, 2023, I want to clarify that I am currently a free individual with a clean criminal record. I acknowledge my involvement in Centrelink fraud between 2010 and 2015, but it is important to provide additional context regarding my actions during that time. I reluctantly accepted a Disability Support Pension due to manipulation from my partner and experiencing family violence. I must highlight that my partner cannot report me for Centrelink fraud as he was the one who pressured me into it, and his own complicity would be exposed if he did so. Furthermore, there is evidence to suggest that ASIO and the Department of Social Services (DSS) were aware of my partner's earnings and our circumstances. I informed Centrelink of this and declared our relationship in 2014. However, my partner demanded that we "break up" because he claimed he couldn't afford to support me. I have reported this matter to the Commonwealth Ombudsman, but no investigation has taken place, indicating a systemic compliance in my vilification while I received a minimal pension despite my dedication to pursuing a Masters Degree. This highlights a clear double standard. In July 2023, I self-reported my own fraud to Centrelink and DSS. If they choose to punish me without acknowledging my former partner's financial situation and the family violence I endured, it would be unfair, unbalanced, and indicative of corruption. It is worth noting that Centrelink already had knowledge of our relationship, as did ASIO and AGIS.

Demand for Investigation by the Anti-Corruption Commission and Recognition of Systemic Injustices and Corruption

I bring to your attention the grave concerns and urgent need for a thorough investigation into the systemic injustices and widespread corruption that I have personally experienced and witnessed within our society. As a citizen deeply committed to justice and fairness, I implore the National Corruption Commission to take immediate action to address these critical issues. Over the course of several years, I have been subjected to a series of injustices, victimization, and targeted harassment. These experiences have left me in a vulnerable position, facing significant challenges in accessing my rights, achieving justice, and rebuilding my life. It is evident that there is a coordinated effort to obstruct justice and perpetuate my victimization, as supported by substantial evidence and patterns of behavior.

I am particularly concerned about the following matters that warrant investigation:

- Denial of Rights and Equality: Despite my dedication to assisting and advocating for others, I have faced discrimination, wrongful termination, violence, and deprivation of resources, freedom, and my home. I have been treated as a convenient scapegoat, disregarding my qualifications and experience, and denying me equality before the law and access to necessary resources. These actions directly violate my human rights and should be thoroughly examined.

- Centrelink Fraud and Partner's Complicity: I must clarify my involvement in Centrelink fraud between 2010 and 2015. It was a result of manipulation from my partner and experiencing family violence. I have reported this matter to the Commonwealth Ombudsman, as there is evidence to suggest that ASIO and the Department of Social Services (DSS) were aware of my partner's earnings and our circumstances. I urge the commission to investigate the circumstances surrounding my case and consider the larger context of coercion and manipulation that influenced my actions.
- Gang Stalking and Surveillance: I have encountered individuals who appear to be spies or persons of interest within the government. These encounters, along with recordings of government officials surveilling my former residence, support my claims of targeted harassment and gang stalking. It is crucial that these incidents are thoroughly investigated to expose any potential abuse of power and violations of privacy.
- Systemic Compliance and Double Standards: The lack of investigation by Centrelink and DSS into my self-reported fraud, despite their prior knowledge of my relationship and circumstances, raises concerns of systemic compliance and double standards. I request a comprehensive examination of the handling of my case and the possible corruption and imbalances within these institutions.

I firmly believe that the establishment of a national Anti-Corruption Commission presents an opportunity for real change and justice. I implore the commission to conduct a thorough and unbiased investigation into the matters outlined above, ensuring accountability and transparency throughout the process. It is vital to address the systemic injustices and corruption that have impacted not only my life but also the lives of many others who have suffered similar experiences.

I call for Investigation by the Anti-Corruption Commission framed by this essay. I hope for a solution or compromise to my impasse and intervention to meet my basic needs. This website aims to protect me from further oppression, including financial control from family violence. Throughout my tumultuous life, unrelenting adversity has led to a distressing and challenging predicament. Obtaining legal representation has become insurmountable, especially as a whistleblower seeking justice. Law enforcement has rejected my pleas, and even the Prime Minister's office has disregarded my valid requests under the Freedom of Information Act. This victimization is against the law and has caused me significant detriment.

Seeking Justice, Reclaiming Dignity, and Paving the Path for Change: A Call to Action against Systemic Injustices

In conclusion, I share this page and my experiences to bring attention to the systemic injustices and widespread corruption in our society. I strongly urge the new national Anti-Corruption Commission to thoroughly investigate these claims and acknowledge my story, becoming agents of change on the side of justice and history. It is crucial to recognize that this situation is profoundly unfair, and public officials should uphold ethical standards within the framework of human rights. I refuse to be silenced or reduced to a mere victim. However, I am at risk of starvation, homelessness, and suicide as the government delays justice for me. My commitment lies in seeking justice, reclaiming my dignity, having my accomplishments recognized, and striving for a better future. The evidence clearly indicates that I have been victimized as a misunderstood individual who has been subjected to gang stalking. There is a clear conspiracy to obstruct justice. The same oppression that nearly ended my life continues to pose a risk based on my history, with each individual neglecting me serving as a reminder of this potential danger. It is not an act of bravery or courage for them to dismiss my experiences. I can confidently say that the only courageous person in this narrative, among all these public servants and key political stakeholders implicated, is myself.

A call out for financial donations or investment in my justice:

I humbly appeal to your generous spirit to consider making a donation towards the cause that I, Dr. Richard McLean, represent.
