Terms and conditions

DeclarationsI hereby solemnly and sincerely declare: 1. I believe the identification and account information details I have provided to be true and correct. I understand it is an offence under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 to give false and misleading information. I understand Australian Unity will collect personal information from me as required by the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 and that it may take steps to verify the personal information it has collected. 2. As a condition of opening an account with Australian Unity I have obtained, read and accept the terms and conditions of the following: a. Low Rate Visa Credit Card Conditions of Use b. Accounts and Access Facilities Terms of Use c. Financial Services Guide d. Schedule of Fees, Charges and Transaction Limits e. Schedule of Interest Rates f. Privacy and Credit Reporting Policy. 3. I understand that these documents are available on Australian Unity's website at <https://www.australianunity.com.au/banking/terms-of-use> and that I can access them online. Alternatively, I can obtain copies of these documents from Australian Unity on request by calling 1300 790 740. 4. As part of your application you consent to us providing you with: a. A transaction or transactional offset (whichever is applicable) account; b. A Visa Debit card and Personal Identification Number (PIN); c. Internet Banking access; d. Quarterly electronic statements within your Internet Banking; and e. Electronic notices about your banking to the email address you have provided. Should you choose to opt out of any of these facilities, please contact us on 1300 790 740. Charges may apply for requests to receive periodic statements via post. 5. I declare that the information provided for meeting Automatic Exchange of Information (AEOI) requirements (where applicable) is true and correct and that I will provide all necessary co-operation and assistance in order for us to comply with obligations under Australian legislation designed to give effect to AEOI which includes Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) and Common Reporting Standard (CRS) regimes. I have provided my tax residency status, including all countries which I am a tax resident and the respective TIN. I will inform Australian Unity within 30 days of any change in circumstances which affect my tax residency status. Any personal information collected for the purposes of the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) and the OECD Common Reporting Standard (CRS) will be used for the purpose of meeting obligations under CRS and the Intergovernmental Agreement (IGA) between Australia and United States implementing the United States legislation known as FATCA. 6. I authorise the collection, use and disclosure of information about me in the manner set out under the heading 'Permission to obtain and disclose credit and personal information'. 7. I make application for a credit card in the amount set forth in this application form. 8. The information provided in this application is true and correct in every particular and I have no financial commitments, debts, liabilities, or financial obligations other than those disclosed in this application. I understand that if I do not provide all details requested that assessment in ascertaining suitability of the credit card will be compromised and the application will not be considered. 9. I acknowledge that there are no other known factors that may compromise my capacity to repay the loan such as, pending loss of employment, change in income, increased expenditure, change of financial position, or any other change that may affect making the minimum repayments. 10. I have completed a budget to calculate a repayment I can afford, so without substantial hardship I can make the repayments that would be necessary on the amount of credit applied for (budget forms are available at <https://www.australianunity.com.au/banking>) as disclosed in this application form. 11. I understand that Australian Unity may need to contact my employer, my other financial institutions or referees to confirm information within this application. Membership of Australian Unity Limited As an Australian Unity customer you may be eligible to become a member of Australian Unity Limited (AUL) once you have held an Australian Unity account for a continuous period of two years, subject to acceptance by AUL. You hereby apply for membership, and agree to become a member of AUL (and to be bound by its Constitution upon becoming a member) unless you provide AUL with written notice that you elect not to be a member of AUL. Admission to membership is at the absolute discretion of the directors of AUL (or their delegate), and they may create categories of membership with the same or differing rights or privileges and admit you to any category. Membership of AUL is on and subject to such rights and privileges (if any) and the terms, rights, restrictions and obligations set out in the Constitution of AUL from time to time.

Y I agree to the declarations

Privacy InformationPermission to obtain and disclose credit and personal information What information can be disclosed? The Privacy Act allows Australian Unity Bank Limited (Australian Unity, we, us, our) ABN 30 087 652 079 and other applicable persons to disclose personal information about you when related to the primary purpose for which it was collected. In connection with providing credit to you, personal information may include credit information, such as: a. details to identify you and verify your identity, such as your name, sex, date of birth, current and 2 previous addresses, your current and last known employer, and your drivers licence number

b. the fact that you have applied for credit and the amount, or that you are a current credit provider to you, or that you have agreed to be a guarantor c. advice that payments previously notified as unpaid are no longer overdue d. information about your current or terminated consumer credit accounts and your repayment history e. payments overdue for at least 60 days and for which collection action has started in specified circumstances, that in our opinion you have committed a serious credit infringement the fact that credit provided to you by us has been paid or otherwise discharged, and f. other information about credit standing, worthiness, history or capacity that credit providers can disclose under the Privacy Act, including a credit report. Your sensitive information (e.g., membership of a professional or trade association) may also be disclosed where relevant to this application.

Why do we obtain information? Before, during or after the provision of our products and services to you, we may obtain your personal information for the purpose of providing products and services to you and managing our business. When providing credit to you, this may include assessing your application for consumer or commercial credit or to be a guarantor for the applicant, assessing your credit worthiness, managing your loan or the arrangements under which your loan is funded or collecting overdue payments. If you do not provide us with the personal information that we request, we may not be able to consider your application for credit or provide other services. Who can give or obtain information? For the purpose of providing products and services to you and managing our business, we may give information to: a. external service providers to us, such as organisations which we use to verify your identity, payment systems operators, mailing houses and research consultants b. insurers and re-insurers, where insurance is provided in connection with our services to you c. superannuation funds, where superannuation services are provided to you d. debt collecting agencies, if you have not repaid a loan as required e. our professional advisors, such as accountants, lawyers and auditors f. state or territory authorities that give assistance to facilitate the provision of home loans to individuals g. other credit providers and their professional advisors h. your representative, for example, lawyer, mortgage broker, financial advisor or attorney, as authorised by you, or i. government and regulatory authorities, if required or authorised by law. In addition, in connection with providing credit to you, we and the Credit Providers mentioned below may: a. obtain a commercial and consumer credit report containing personal information about you from a credit reporting body b. obtain personal information about you from your employer and any referees that you may provide c. exchange credit information about you with each other, and d. exchange credit information about you with any credit reporting body and any other provider of credit to you named in your credit application or a credit report from a credit reporting body. Credit Providers can mean: a. us b. our related companies c. any introducer, dealer or broker referred to in the loan application d. any agent or contractor of ours assisting in processing the loan application, and e. any party involved in a securitisation arrangement which we use to fund your loan in the securitisation of your loan, including re-insurers and underwriters, loan servicers, trust managers, trustees and security trustees and any loan originator that may be involved. Overseas disclosures We may disclose your personal information overseas. However, if we do disclose this information outside Australia, we will do so on the basis that the information will be used only for the purposes set out in this document.

Important information about credit reporting bodies If you apply for or hold any kind of credit with us, we may disclose information to a credit reporting body. That includes disclosing that you are in default under a credit agreement or have committed a serious credit infringement, if that is the case. (Specifically, we may disclose information to or collect information from Experian, whose privacy policy is at www.experian.com.au and Illion, whose privacy policy is at www.illion.com.au). Credit reporting bodies collect credit information about individuals which they provide as credit reports to credit providers and others in the credit industry to assist them in managing credit risk, collecting debts and other activities. Credit pre-screening is a service for credit providers wishing to send direct marketing material about credit services. A credit reporting body uses information it holds to screen out individuals who do not meet criteria set by the credit provider. From 12 March 2014, credit reporting bodies must maintain a confidential list of individuals who have opted out of their information being used in pre-screening. To opt-out of credit pre-screening, contact the credit reporting body using the contact details on their websites referred to above. You can also ask a credit reporting body not to use or disclose your personal information for a period if you believe on reasonable grounds that you have been or are likely to be a victim of fraud, including identity fraud. Disclosure to insurers and guarantors Lenders mortgage and trade insurers In connection with providing credit to you, a lenders mortgage insurer or a registered trade insurer may obtain credit information about you from us or from a credit reporting body to assess whether to provide lenders mortgage insurance to us in relation to an application for consumer credit, or whether to provide trade insurance to us in relation to an application for commercial credit. Guarantors In connection with providing credit to you, we may give a guarantor, or a person who is considering becoming a guarantor, credit information about you for the purpose of enabling the guarantor to decide whether to act as guarantor or to keep informed about the guarantee. Personal information about third parties You represent that, if at any time you supply us with personal information about another person (for example a referee), you are authorised to do so; and you agree to inform that person who we are, how to contact us, how to obtain our Privacy and Credit Reporting Policy, and that we will use and disclose their personal information for the purposes set out in this Permission and that they can gain access to that information. Electronic Verification Under the AML/CTF Act, we can disclose your name, residential address and date of birth to a credit reporting body. The purpose of this disclosure is to ask the credit reporting body to assess whether the personal information disclosed matches (in whole or part) personal information about you held in their records (if any). This electronic verification process helps us to verify your identity. The credit reporting body may prepare and provide us with an assessment by using the personal information about you and the names, residential address and dates of birth contained in its records about other individuals. If you not consent to us verifying your identity by electronic verification, we will provide you with an alternate verification process to identify you. If this is the case, please contact us on 1300 790 740 for further information. Security, privacy and credit reporting policy, and marketing preferences Security We take all reasonable steps to ensure that all your personal information held by us (on our website or otherwise), is protected from misuse, interference and loss, and from unauthorised access, disclosure or modification. Privacy and Credit Reporting Policy Our Privacy and Credit Reporting Policy www.australianunity.com.au/banking provides additional information about how we handle your personal and credit-related information. It sets out how you can ask for access to personal and credit-related information we hold about you and seek correction of that information. It also explains how you can complain about a breach of the Privacy Act or the Credit Reporting Privacy Code, and how we will deal with your complaint. We will give you a copy of our Privacy and Credit Reporting Policy on request. Marketing preferences We may use, and share with each other, information about you to inform you about products and services (unless you ask us not to). We may do so even if you are on the Do Not Call Register.

YI acknowledge that I have read: Permission to obtain and disclose credit and personal information and that I consent to the use and disclosure of my personal information set out in the statement
